Enroll Now

Join special area educators from across southeastern PA in a day of targeted professional learning designed to meet your unique needs. This year, nine different strands provide you with an opportunity to gain new knowledge, explore research based practices, get hands on practice or learn new skills. You choose what to attend based on your specialty and professional goals.

Highlights include:

Creating Resilient Schools, Teachers and Students with Sam Goldstein, Ph.D.; Director of the Neurology, Learning, and Behavior Center at the University Neuropsychiatric Institute, Utah

Management of Swallowing and Feeding in the School Setting with Emily M. Homer, M.A., CCC-SLP Coordinator

Exploring Career Connections and the Science of Food at The Restaurant School at WHC with expert chef's, a student panel, and faculty

Come learn, grow, practice and explore at GoggleWorks, Center for the Arts with resident artists and art educators on staff at GoggleWorks in Reading, PA

Preparing to be a Part of the STEM Workforce with STEM educators, workforce partners and educational consultants with expertise in STEM education

SPARK a Movement and Engage all Learners with Magical MVPA Maximized! from SPARK PE or Adapted PE .

...and much more. Visit www.cciu.org/countywide to see a full list of offerings and to enroll. Educators are welcome to attend any strand of interest. Hours attended at these workshops will be applied toward Act 48 requirements. Fees vary based on presenter and material costs. Locations vary by activity. Online enrollment closes on October 27, 2015. Contact Countywide@cciu.org with questions

Join us and enjoy a day dedicated to your unique needs!
